

Innovation Network Matching Grant

Boosting existing capacity to spur innovation and entrepreneurship

Are you an organization that nurtures small business ecosystems?

Co-investments starting at $50,000 are available to expand programming in small business development. Rhode Island is committed to making strategic investments in competitive industries such as: life sciences, health care, food and agriculture, clean technology, energy efficiency, and cyber security.

Who can Apply?

Non-profits, for-profits, universities, and co-working space operators with small business development programs either currently targeting the emerging industries or looking to expand program offerings to these industries.

Innovation Network Matching Grant can be used for small business development in:

- Technical assistance
- Space on flexible terms
- Access to capital

To learn more, and to download an application today, visit commerceri.com