

Discover A Great Opportunity To Enter Into the Clean Energy Industry

Now Introducing the Rhode Island Clean Energy Internship Program!

College students currently enrolled in a college or university in Rhode Island or can demonstrate proof of residency in state can now professionally develop under the mentorship of an industry partner to combat real world problems in energy and the environment!

Interns will be able to gain experience by:

- Participating in research projects
- Gathering and analyzing data
- Attending meetings and conferences
- Assisting co-workers with program related tasks
- Develop communication and outreach materials
- & more!

RICEIP is looking for candidates interested in the following:

- | | |
|-----------------------|------------------|
| Alternative transport | Fuel Cell |
| Biofuel | Geothermal |
| Biomass | Green Building |
| Carbon Trading | Hydro |
| Conservation | Smart Grid |
| Demand response | Solar |
| Energy Efficiency | Water Technology |
| Services and Support | Wind |

Applications for 2019 Summer Session Due: March 22, 2019

Positions are limited and offered on a competitive basis.
Apply Now!

Contact Information:

Email: ref@commerceri.com

Website: <https://commerceri.com/financing/renewable-energy-fund/>